

Dear vendors,

American Digger® magazine is proud to announce the inaugural 2018 Chattanooga Civil War Show & Sale. To assure that this will be an outstanding annual event, we have:

- > Targeted advertising designed to attract even bigger gate crowds.
- > Expanded categories. While Civil War is the focus, artifacts and Americana from ancient times up to WWII are encouraged. Vendors are responsible for any required firearm licenses needed.
- > Increased event exposure provided by one of the most respected hobby publications in the world, American Digger® magazine.

Demand for table space is expected to be high. Tables (200 total) will be sold on a first come/ first serve basis. The same also applies to desired placement.

Rules for vendors:

- > No loaded firearms.
- > No live artillery shells (disarmed or solid shot only).
- > Tables must be manned until closing time on Sunday (3 PM) unless prior arrangements are made.
- > Vendors should have their tables uncovered and ready for business at the appropriate start time, and remain so until the show closes for the day.
- > Any reproduction or fantasy pieces must be sold as such.
- > Modern souvenirs, ie bumper stickers, license plates, t-shirts, etc. sold only with prior approval.
- > In order to present a professional look to the public, vendors must provide and use table covers.

We will provide qualified security Friday and Saturday (both day and night), and during the day Sunday. It is suggested that merchandise be covered after hours. Finally, for everyone's safety and comfort, American Digger® is under no obligation to sell or offer vendor space to any applicant, and we also reserve the right to refuse admission to any individual.

Awards will be given for Best of Show, Best Dug Artifact, Best Non-Dug Artifact, Most Educational, and Judge's Choice.

Please join us in a new era in artifact shows at the 2018 Chattanooga Show!

Best Regards,

Butch Holcombe
